About This Software

Speech Trainer is a VR auditorium where you can practice presentations and learn to overcome your fear of public speaking by addressing a virtual audience. Bring your own presentation (in PDF format) and use the clicker and microphone to practice your speech until you feel ready for the real thing.

Notes:

Requires Vive and headphones for full effect.

Landscape PDF recommended for slides.

To move forward a slide click the touch pad on the laser pointer, to move back a slide press the button above the touch pad.

To get used to the sound of your own voice wear headphones and raise the microphone to your mouth.

Not quite usable with WMR, as the clicker controls don't work. If they fix it, I'll give this a marginally positive review: it serves a useful function, and no one else at this time provides the same feature on Steam. As far as I know, this is the only product in its category on Steam, so if your clicker works, use it.

In general, this feels like cheap knock-off of VirtualSpeech, a fairly slick smartphone VR app for Cardboard. That's fine in theory, since VirtualSpeech doesn't yet have an app on Steam, and we need someone to provide this service on Steam. But the comparison is not favorable to Speech Trainer: the clicker doesn't work on my headset, the models are low res, there's only one setting, there's no "job interview" mode, no feedback on speech performance, and there's no training material or courses. But at least the price is right.. A really great immersive experience for who is shy/introvert. I use this for practicing before i have a speech/presentation at my university and it REALLY helps me. you can put your pdf presentation on the computer inside the game and go through it. the people and the scenario are not really polished, BUT THIS IS A FREE TO PLAY.

as i said, a must have f2p vr game.

8.5/10. This is a excellent program and I highly recommended. I used this to practice my presentation.. Best game I have ever played. I wish the people would move/interrupt the speech. The clones are kinda anoying, but that one dude in the front row is a tough NPC, he makes me angry even thinking about him. Love this game, way to play is to have player two upload a random PDF from the internet, and player one gives the speech. 10/10 would present again. This is a excellent program and I highly recommended. I used this to practice my presentation.
